A Hightstown paper in an article concerning a church service in that town, says: "The Lord is my Shepherd," sung by J. George Batzle of Peddie Institute, at the Baptist Church Sunday morning, created much favorable comment. Mr. Batzle is becoming very much of an artist in his vocal work, and our people ought to hear more of him.

Miss Florence Louise Pearce, of Belleville, and John S. A. Lehman, were married Thursday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hannah Pearce, 113 Academy street, in the former place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. O. Winner, of Patterson, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The latter were unattended and there was no reception owing to a recent death in the family of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman will reside in Belleville on their return from a trip to Atlantic City.

A Good Prospect.

The opening of the Bloomfield branch of Charles M. Decker & Bros., series of grocery stores took place Wednesday. Owing to the lockout in the building trade the firm was delayed in making necessary alterations in the new store, and consequently were prevented from carrying out display arrangements in the manner desired. Notwithstanding the stormy weather, large numbers of people visited and patronized the new store, and the firm is well pleased with prospects for a good business at the Bloomfield store. The Messrs. Decker desire to express their thanks to those who have thus far visited their store.

JAPANESE JOTTINGS.

Chrysanthemums served as a salad are a favorite article of diet among the Japanese.

At a Japanese banquet it is considered a compliment to exchange cups with a friend.

Japanese cooks are the most cruel in the world. They cut every atom of flesh off a living fish piecemeal without first causing death.

The lower class of the Japanese employ hardly any other material than paper for their clothing. Where wages are exceedingly low, cloth is an impossible extravagance.

Every hotel in Japan has a fan, special to itself, containing a view of the hotel and a blessing from the writings of Confucius. One of these is always given to the departing guest.

Many Japanese women are undergoing the slight surgical operation necessary to straighten the slant of the eyelid, which distinguishes them so unmistakably from Caucasian women.

The Japanese eat more fish than any other people in the world. With them meat eating is a foreign innovation, confined to the rich, or, rather, to those rich people who prefer it to the national diet.

Birds' Eggs Too Much For Science.

It is not often that science acknowledges herself at fault in an apparently simple matter, but she frankly does so in regard to the color and marking of a large proportion of birds' eggs. A reason there must be for their infinite diversity; it cannot be an æsthetic one, and all we can say with any confidence is that the ever pervading instinct of distrust is probably exhibited in eggshells as in more important things, and the main idea in their scheme of coloration has been the securing of safety from many enemies by harmonizing them with their surroundings. But it is a scheme full of perplexing exceptions, which any one can study for himself.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Preaching Monkeys.

The author of "The History of Brazil" tells of a species of monkey called "preachers." Every morning and evening these monkeys assemble in the woods. One takes a higher position than the rest and makes a signal with his fore paw. At this signal the others sit around him and listen. When they are all seated, he begins to utter a series of sounds. When he stops these cries, he makes another signal with his paw, and the others cry out until he makes a third signal, upon which they become silent again. This author, Mr. Maregrove, asserts that he was a witness to these preachings.

No Rash Remarks.

"Mrs. McSmith is a very queer widow."

"Queer in what way?"

"No one has ever heard her say she wouldn't marry the best man that ever lived."—Puck.

Accidentally.

Hoax—How did he make his money?

Joax—Quite by accident.

Hoax—How was that?

Joax—He lost a leg in a railroad wreck and recovered damages.—Philadelphia Record.

Close Resemblance.

"Contentment," said Uncle Eben, "is a mighty fine thing. But de trouble about it is dat it is kin' o' hahd to 'stingush fum plain laziness."—Washington Star.

Dr. C. S. Woodruff will preach at the Park M. E. Church Sunday morning on the topic "The Blessings of the Unattained," and in the evening on "The Blessings of the Attained."
